

Nowadays, most of human do not care against animal world whereas it's very important for human being. So many people kill animal and they aren't even aware toward animal's life. It causes that the amount of animals decrease sharply. Beside that, people also haven't realized that animal can be very useful to improve their quality of life and animal can be used as the way to understand environment as well.

As a development of the world of information, one of them is about animal world, it causes educational institutions need an enhancement in giving information. No exception in institution about human world. The methodology or one of ways that can be done to realize that enhancement is by using online media or by developing a website. The purpose of using website is to ease the educational institutions in increasing their information delivery. One of institution which needs website is Zoology Museum. It needs online media or website due to so many people still don't know about existence this museum, especially people outside of Jabodetabek.

Based on problems above, the result is people will be more aware that animal can be very useful for human being and by using website media, they will realize that animal's life is important because of website which is able to reach distant place. So that author is interested to review in designing this Final Task. The purpose is to help Zoology Museum in existence promotion and ease in information delivery, especially about animal world.
