

ABSTRACT

CV Rafa putra perdana is a private company that run it's business sector in service and trading that has several business unit which are, general trading (general trading and goods procurement that is supplier and costumer oriented), general contractor (building contractor), consultant division (tax consultant division). Every sales and purchase transaction has documents that have to be properly manage in order to minimize error in doing transaction. Documents related to sales and purchase transactions consist of purchase order, sales order, delivery order, invoice, and receipt. Process of document management can be organized using acrual basis method in financial record and perpetual method in managing supply with the result accounting report in the form of journal, ledger, consolidation, and gross profit avcording to the needs of the company. The functionality was handled by the application are to manage credit sales, manage cash sales, manage credit purchase, manage cash purchases, corporate tax consulting, and management journals and reports. Software development using structured model consist of Data Folow Diagram(DFD), Entity Relationship Diagram (ERD), Data Dictionary and Process Specification. The implementation of this application made in web basis using PHP programming language, Javascript, and MySQL. Assesment done using blackbox method testing towards aplication functional and the result from the assesment is Suitable according to the needs of the company.

Keywords: CV RAFA PUTRA PERDANA, General Trading, General Contractor, Consultant