

ABSTRACT

Application education vegetables for children based android, is application that can help in learning children can explain types of vegetables as means of support and helps to know of the benefits of vegetables and all that stuff. To know types of vegetables by looking at it directly through the application of this in addition, there are a game pull it like endless run, mini games, coloring or coloring. Methods used is the method addie was. With the media learning it this way expected children can learn easily and can be recognized types of vegetables.

Keywords: Education, Method of ADDIE, Learning Media.