

Abstract

ALSO is an android-based application that has a function as a medium for doing exercises of the exam school or national examination for students elementary school sixth grade. This application can be used by students and teachers. Teachers act as supervisor and regulatory issues that exist in this application.

Processing systems in applications ALSO this matter the same as when the students do the problems, the students only need to choose the correct answer to all questions presented. The difference is the presentation of the answers to each question will always be randomized order with the goal that students can truly understand and appreciate of the issues presented.

Keywords: ALSO, android, applications, exercises.