

ABSTRACT

Information Systems and Technology is evolving very well, our daily lives has never been separated from it, the situation opened opportunities for every human being to contribute in it by studying and working with the media and the Information Technology systems. the existence of many startup and jobs offered online is a form of the proof. Accordingly, it appears an idea or ideas to create collaborative applications based project management social media, the application is made on the basis of the web and structured programming techniques, using CodeIgniter framework, MySQL database. Features the recruitment, management, monitoring and discussion between individuals in the team. Applications are expected later able to deliver effectiveness and efficiency in the process of a project application and can produce good products and superior applications.

Keywords: Application,Startup,Collaboration,Social Media,Monitoring.