

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As the completion of this Undergraduate Thesis, the writer wishes to express his biggest gratitude for the support of all parties in the writer's effort to finish this Undergraduate Thesis. Without their supports, motivation, and prayer, the writer may not be able to finish this Undergraduate Thesis as well as what has been done.

1. The writer would like to express his highest appreciation and respect towards the writer's parents and family member for their support and motivation.
2. The writer is outstandingly appreciative to Ridha Muldina Negara, S.T., M.T. for her crucial guidance and assistance in order to finish this Undergraduate Thesis.
3. The writer is fully grateful to Dr. Nyoman Bogi Aditya Karna, S.T., MSEE. for his invaluable guidance and support in the completion of this Undergraduate Thesis.
4. The writer would like to express his gratitude to Retno Hendryanti, Ph. D. for her numerous supports throughout the writer's college years.
5. Last but not least, gratitude goes to Syarifatussakinah Mumtaz, Muhammad Redha, and all my friends from PLP Group, LMAO Group, TT-40-INT Class, and all individuals who directly or indirectly encouraged the writer to finish this Undergraduate Thesis.
