

ABSTRACT

Humans are social creatures and have a higher intelligence than animals. That's why humans can coexist with animals. Animals that have been with humans for a long time are cats. In addition, cats also became animals worshiped by the ancient Egyptians, for the ancient Egyptians believed that cats were the incarnation of the goddess Bast. The cat is either an animal or a beloved living creature of the prophet (peace and blessings be upon him). The cat's conduct can and may reduce the tension in the mind because of its comicalness and cuteness. The goal is to encourage people to like cats. The writer's work is the writer's opinion of the object of his choice of cats. The writer's interest in the cat he chooses will be made as much as two paintings.

Keywords: humans and cats