

ABSTRACT

POP! Hotel Kemang is one of the popular budget hotel choices in the Kemang area, South Jakarta. It not only provides rooms but also meeting rooms and a restaurant as facilities for hotel guests. Hotel guests who come are not only those using the hotel room facilities, but also business people who only needs the meeting room facilities, which adds to the selling point of POP! Hotel Kemang. Functional and comfortable interior management for users is needed due to some issues found with the acoustic elements of the space and facilities of POP! Hotel. To resolve these issues, a redesign was conducted under the theme of maximal in minimalism, with the aim of providing a simple yet comfortable and functional space to facilitate users when utilizing the facilities. The design results in a comfortable space with acoustic treatment and additional facilities to support business activities for users. The addition of supporting facilities such as meeting rooms and user needs within hotel rooms is addressed in this research.
