

ABSTRACT

The existence of a cellphone which formerly was labeled as a luxury item are now can be enjoyed by every single person with advance features that equip it, one of which is a GPS (Global Positioning System) it's a chip that is used to determine the position of our devices by displaying the longitude and latitude. By utilizing the GPS feature so we can make our cellphone into a tool that can be used as a tracers location (Tracking).

Definition of Tracking is to track down the location of the data requested in the form of latitude and longitude and display It in the form of a pointer in the map so it can be read easily.

Used of this application is that so the administrators of travel baraya can easily track the position of the existence of any vehicle, at any time by simply installing applications into the mobile phone device. With a google's map, then the admin can know for sure where the location of each vehicle they own. Equipped with several additional features, that one provision of media to exchange news through the Internet, so that anyone can easily submit news stories that can be read by all owners of the application.

Keywords: Application, GPS, Tracking, Locotion tracking